
AQUINIAN

60

Lover Carey,

I just wanted to tell you that I will be feeling sorry for you next year when you have to go to Hilson. You poor thing! All those boys!. I'm already starting to cry. This is sort of shaky because I am walkingdown the stairs. When you're at Hilson I know you will long to be back at Aquinas. I know you couldn't prefer a co-ed school, when you could go to an all-girl school like Aquinas. Please remember me to all your new boy friends (i.e. Byron Stauffer)

Good luck,

Celia

SPIRIT

Spirit! Aquinas school spirit – it's roaming through the classrooms, winding around the pink railings, buzzing into the gym, twisting around the kitchen and the halls. This spirit is the fabulous Aquinas personality, springing from the values of loyalty, truth, and honor. Watch and you will find the Aquinas spirit of 59'-60' captured in this years' Aquinian.

DIRECTORS PRAISE SPIRIT

The spirit of Aquinas. We have heard of it! Heard it praised – commented upon. What is it?

It is difficult to define "spirit". We know it is derived from the Latin "spiritus" akin to the Latin "spirare" to breath, to blow. We then think of it as "the breath of life", "the life principle;" the life principle viewed as the breath or gift of God, hence the agent of vital and conscious functions in man. In its secondary aspect it is associated with vivacity, ardor, courage, enthusiasm, enthusiastic loyalty.

This last aspect mentioned, "enthusiastic loyalty" is the phase of the spirit that has characterized the student body of Aquinas, and has made it so especially outstanding.

The development of this spirit can be attributed in great measure to the devoted Sisters of St. Domonic and the other faculty members, to the continued interest and helpfulness of the administrative staff, to the inspiring support of all activities by the Mothers' Club, but in no small degree to the students themselves of Aquinas.

One needs but to visit the school or attend one of its programs to immediately notice and fall under the influence of this enthusiastic loyalty.

This finds practical expression in the Aquinas Creed:

Attire herself tastefully and modestly –
Quietly assume her duties and responsibilities –
Unfailingly cooperate with authority –
Imitate the virtues of the Blessed Virgin Mary –
Never be conspicuous in manner –
Always have the courage of her convictions –
Sincerely try to attain the highest ideals of Catholic womanhood –

May this creed dominate your lives, and if it does, your spirit of Aquinas shall never die.

Let us now peek behind the scenes. You see another part of Aquinas – the mothers. Where do you see them? You see them in the office, at the meetings, and wherever you need them. Our mothers are an important part of the structure of our Aquinas spirit; for what is any organization without the helping hand of motherhood?

SPIRIT IN

SPEECH

Looking through current magazines are speech class members Janet Yusko, Janet Rasmussen, Marjorie Graham, Jeanne McMenamin, and Leslie McDaniel.

SHORTHAND

Looking on are Linda Fisher, Mary McNamara, and Leslie Moreau, while Judy Farrell and Nancy Hoefert demonstrate their shorthand abilities at the board.

BIOLOGY

Bending over a microscope in Biology class is Georgalee Hammerschmith, as Dallas Batka, Anita Fermo, Sue Carol Bame, Dana Batka, and Sharon Renggli watch.

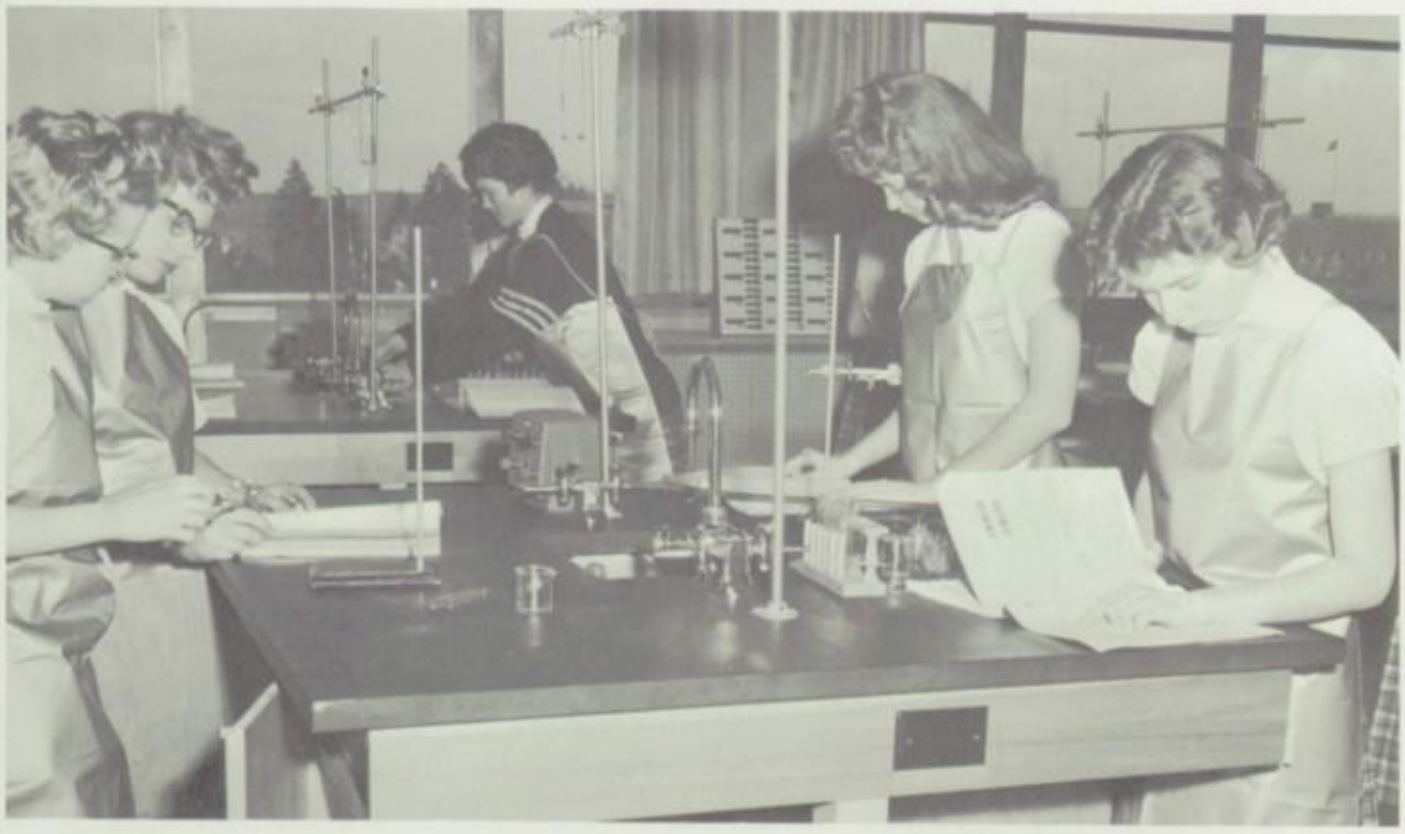
These busy pancake cooks are Dianne Roby, Barbara Mullin, Kathy Gordon, Dallas Batka, and Margaret Heim.

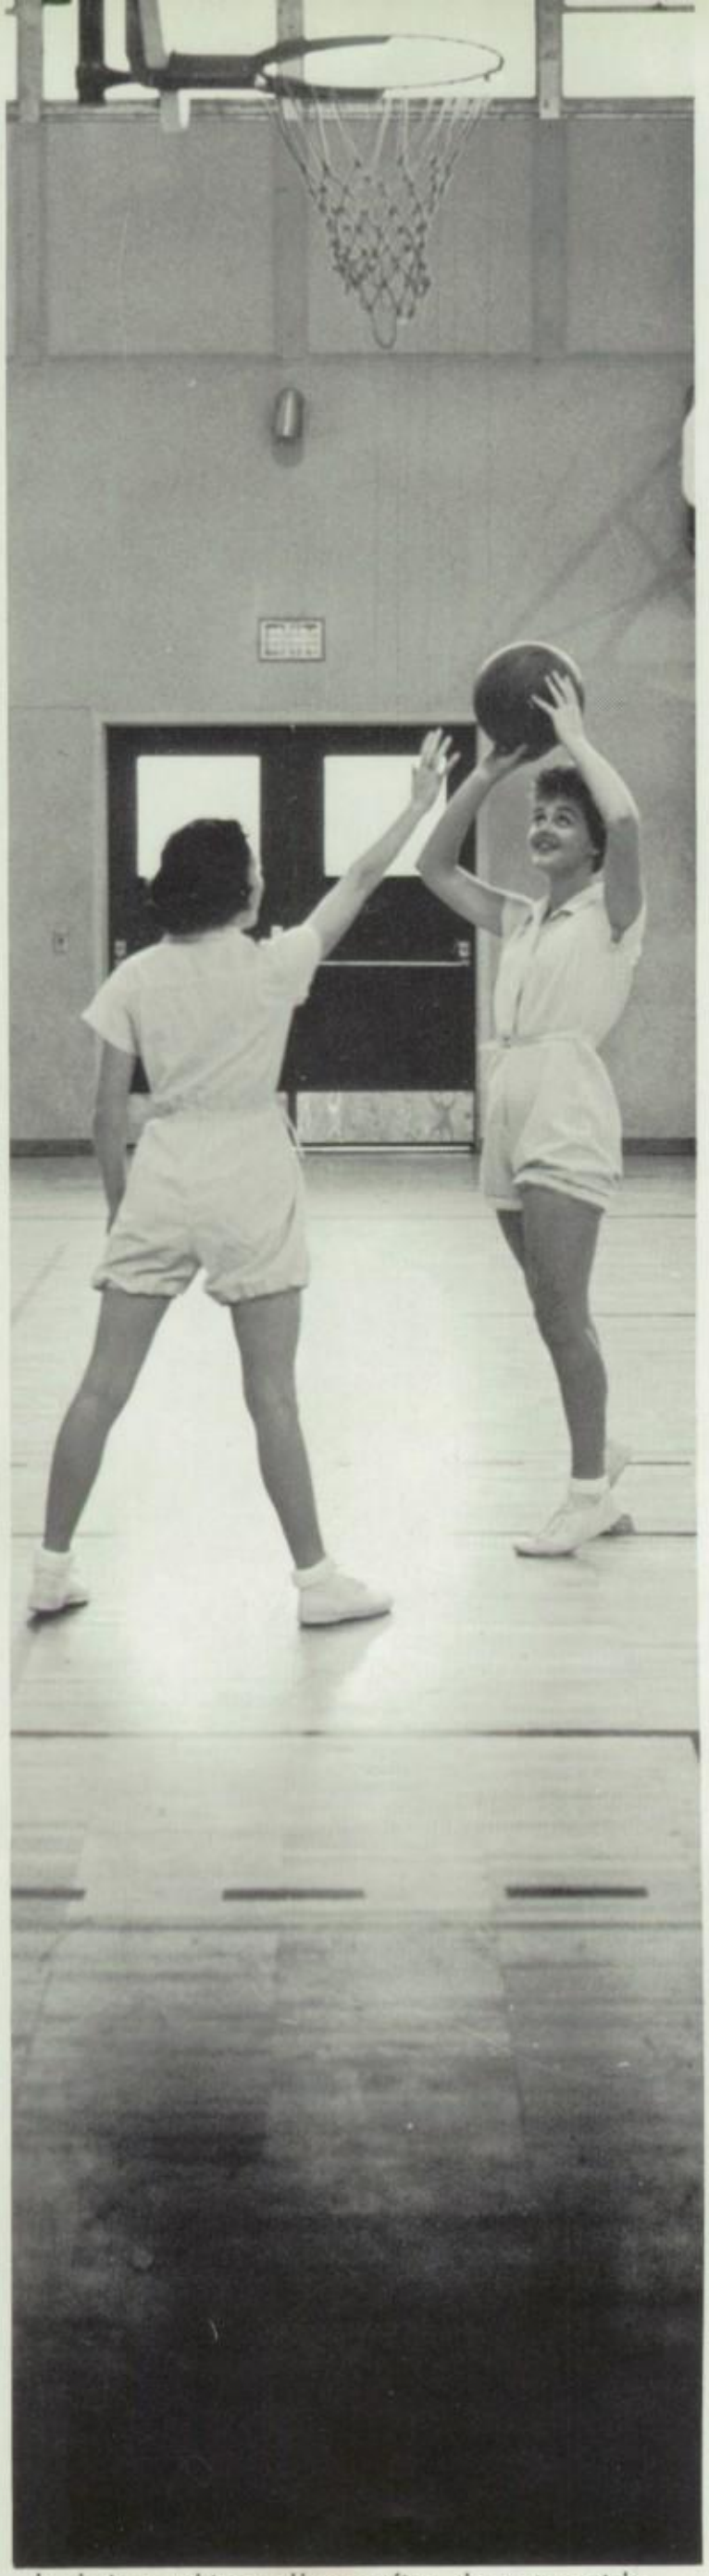


CHEMISTRY

Some Aquinas "chemists" who are hastily completing the day's experiment are Julie Gustafson, Marjorie Graham, Jan Yusko, Linda Wingard, and Linda Ulianich.

ART

In art class Julie Willis, Claudia Ehreth, Timmie O'Brien and Linda Doyle work on leather craft. This is the first year leather craft has been taught at Aquinas.



In their sunshine-yellow outfits, these two girls are perfecting their basketball plays.

Nearest us is seated Ruth Sant, to her left is Peggy Griewe, and behind her sits Sharon Renggli, all busily typing their assignments.

CLASSES RADIATE SPIRIT

Aquinas spirit flits among the classrooms absorbing the atmosphere of foreign languages, art, science and history, and homemaking. She feels she is getting quite an education, as is the entire Aquinas student body.

Working on their fashionable creations are the sewing class and Sister Mary Dolorita.

ORGANIZATIONS

WITH SPIRIT

To attend the installation of new members, the Sodality is assembled at St. Patrick's Church. With Mary as their special patron, the sodalists keep self-improvement as their constant goal.

Each of them works on one of the committees below and helps promote the activities and projects of her committee.

SODALITY BUILDS TRUTH AND PIETY

Jan Yusko, head of the Apostolic Committee, and Nancy Roberge are shown collecting "old gold" for the missions.

Menus for Thanksgiving were a main project for the Eucharistic Committee. Arlene Renggli heads it with her helper, Timmie O'Brien.

Father John Dalgity, this year's retreat master, speaks informally to a few girls after one of his conferences.

Marjorie Graham, Prefect; Renette Diaz de Leon, secretary-treasurer; and Cathy Love, vice-prefect are shown around Our Lady's statue, donated by Sodality last year.

IN THE SOUL OF AQUINAS SPIRIT

Our Lady's Committee, with Clara Skansie in charge, sponsored a successful doll raffle this year. Shown with Clara is her helper, Peggy Griewe.

Probation Instructors, Ginny Comfort and Jo Ann Tucci, are correcting Sodality tests.

TORCH CLUB OFFICERS: Mary Ann Cummings, president; Clara Skansie, vice-president.

TORCH CLUB EMBODIES SPIRIT

Service, character, leadership, and scholarship – these are the qualities necessary for a member of the National Honor Society, which at Aquinas is called Torch Club. The students who fit these qualifications are installed each year and they present a Saint Thomas Aquinas Day skit. This year it was called "This is your life, Thomas Aquinas." Torch Club represents perfectly the Spirit of Aquinas in action.

ROW ONE: Linda Wingard, Phillis Mullan. ROW TWO: Linda Ulianich, Mary Ann Cummings, Marjorie Graham. ROW THREE: Pat Banz, Mary Sue Avery, Clara Skansie.

STUDENT COUNCIL SPREADS SPIRIT

Sponsoring school functions, buying gifts for the sisters' feastdays, holding Student Court, making new laws and enforcing old ones, and revising the "A Book" have been a few of the well-accomplished jobs of Student Council this year. The heart and governing body of Aquinas, Student Council performs its varied duties with a diligence depicting Aquinas Spirit exactly.

STUDENT COUNCIL OFFICERS: Phillis Mullan, treasurer; Nancy Hoefert, secretary; Linda Ulianich, president; Pat Banz, vice-president.

SINGERS' SUCCESS SPREADS AFAR

Busy, busy, busy! This Year our Treble Choir and Glee Club have a remarkable spirit that is all their own, and yet, reflects every facet of Aquinas spirit. Well-remembered is the exquisite Triptych, which has become a trademark of Treble and Glee.

On their agenda this year are such places as Mountain View, Holy Cross, Western State, the Oakland Community Center, St. Rita's, and other events such as the crowning of Miss Aquinas, gradution, Torch Club ceremonies, and the Requiem Masses throughout the year.

Under the direction of Sister Mary Imelda and student-directress Judy Miller, with the accompaniment of Louise Gallucci, Treble and Glee have given us some truly wonderful performances.

Here we see Julie Gustafson, Arlene Renggli, Nancy Degon, and Pat DesChane as Triptych angels, with Linda Wingard as Mary, and Ginny Comfort as St. Joseph.

The AQUINAS ECHOES

Special Issue for Aquinian Aquinas Academy Tacoma

Journalism Staff Equips Itself With Useful Knowledge

Mimi Petrich, Susan Brosamer, Janet Owens, Jeanne McMenamin, Leslie McDaniel, Kathryn Belveal, and Mary Sue Avery make up the journalism staff.

Linda Wingard Shows Ability As Editor

Linda has shown her ability in every one of the fine editions she has edited. She and her staff have performed a very inclusive coverage of school events and activities.

Always looking for ways to improve, the journalism staff is looking over back issues of the Echoes and exchange papers from other schools. These girls make up the "reporter" side of the paper and do much of the actual write-up work. Jeanne McMenamin, next year's editor, and many other members of this journalism class will make up next year's official staff.

Watch for the 1960 Aquinian.
It pictures
the Aquinas spirit in action — in classes in activities
in organizations.
Look closely and you will see this spirit.

Echoes: Hard Work And Spirit

This is the second year now that the ECHOES has been printed; it takes a lot of time and patience, but it's worth it! Just ask any avid reporter you happen to see, or who happens to see you. By the end of the year each Aquinas student will have received ten issues of the ECHOES, each one a little chronicle on the latest events and antics of our spirited Aquinians.

Though they often seem befuddled, the Echoes staff, with their advisor Sister Mary Consolata, have actually succeeded in the goal of journalists everywhere to capture life in black and white.

Echoes Staff Constantly Striving For Perfection in Their Paper

Girls of the Echoes staff could be called the "pioneers" of our printed paper. Last year they, and a few others, began printing publications of Aquinas news.

With their past experience and creative spirits, the staff are continuing the fine work which they started last year.

Making the dummy for the next issue are Cathy Love, Barbara Morano, Linda Wingard, Ann Petrich, and Phillis Mullan.

ORGANIZATIONS DEVELOP SPIRIT

Never tiring and always at a high peak, these girls keep the Aquinas Spirit active among the organizations.

Preparing for their big tournament, Cecilia Rappin, Robin Hirsh, and Mary Kay Clark watch as Kathy Gordon debates. Debate Club is presented for the first time this year, and the "spirit of Debate" has hit the whole school.

Looking over new books to file are Nancy Hoefert, Sue Brosamer, Bonnie Heyel and Linda Fisher, head librarians for this year.

C.C.D. teachers, Cathy Love, Arlene Renggli, Susan Glump, Margie Graham, Teresa Geisler, and Phillis Mullan are looking through the encyclopedia for some new ideas for class.

SPIRIT IN ACTIVITIES

Dear Carrie,

It's really been fun knowing these past three years. I wish you were going to be here next year too. But I know how much fun you are going to have next year. I wish I was going with you. This summer is really going to be a blast. I can hardly wait to practice this summer at Shaw. You know when you are cheerleading and a really cute little doll. Good luck with J.V. next year ok swell. See you too. But we had a lot of fun, and was ice - staking, dances, games, and wasn't the fella's slumber party fun? Then all the fella's start chasing you mabey you can give me one. I hope you get a good big sister and don't worry about suffering too much throughout initiations again. I'll pray that they don't hurt you too much. Lots of luck in everything you do. Be good and have fun.

A.A.A. – the Aquinas Athletic Association is the tree of spirit from which branch all the sport-clubs in Aquinas. Its officers, Pat Brennan, Mary Mullane, Judy Seiwrath and Julie Beckman, have worked especially hard this year shining up the old clubs and introducing new ones.

SENIOR BALL

"Misty" the theme of the Senior Ball, was carried through beautifully by "nature" at the Country Club. The tiny white snowflakes outside, the cheerful Christmas decor within, set a mood inexplicable and absolutely dreamy.

SOPH-FROSH TOLO

Tiny rose bushes of silver and sky blue roses accented the southern mansion atmosphere of the Soph-Frosh Tolo, completed with a fountain.

Tesse Risse, Joanne Freeman, Kathy Zydek, Kathy Dunn, Judy Yerbich, Jeanne McMenamin.

JUNIOR PROM

May 13 was the date of the Junior Prom, which the juniors presented for the seniors. Its committees are busily pondering over ideas fantastic and beautiful for their "big dance."

ROW ONE: Louise Gallucci, Sandy Coombe, Mary Ann Dickson. ROW TWO: Angela Bonica, Ann Petrich, Brynne Flannigan, Barbara Mullin, Carol Clevenger.

CORONATION BALL

Coronation Ball is as the name implies – a very grand and formal affair. It is the dance at which Miss Aquinas reigns with her entire pastel court.

MISS SOPHOMORE

MISS FRESHMAN
Judy Hoffman

Vim and vigor, grins and giggles, strong character and warm friendliness all joined together form the wonderful personalities of our Miss Junior, Miss Sophomore, and Miss Freshman.

Chosen by the entire student body, Miss Aquinas and her court truly represent what an Aquinas girl should be. Their warm and friendly smiles seem to penetrate the entire school, a school very proud to have them.

Hi Blacky,

I really don't know where to start or end. All I can say is that don't go to Wilson. Our class won't be the same without you. You're eyes, smile & personality is just to much. But since you all going to Wilson there only one thing that I can say. That is to have a ball. I really don't have to tell you to do that because I know you will anyhow. Take it easy on the boys & if you ever meet one about 6 foot or more, & really cute give me a buzz at Wa. 2-7877 & bring him out. O.K. Don't wait till next year to call but during the summer. Wear your glasses all the time now & just stay as sweet as you are O.K.?

Love, Pat
